A. W. Cook, being first duly sworn on oath says: I am the same person described in deed dated August 22, 1924, executed by Amel Brask and Ida Brask, his wife, to A. W. Cook, recorded at page 5 Book "U" of Deeds, records of Skamania County, Washington. That on the date of said deed I was a married man and Ida May Cook was my wife. The said Ida May Cook died in March, 1925 leaving a Last will and Testament whereby she devised to me all of her real property, including the property described in the above mentioned deed and that probate of said Will was duly had in the Superior Court of the State of Washington for the County of Stevens in Cause No. 2336 therein. It is further decreed by said order that this affiant was the sole beneficiary under the said Will and entitled to have distributed to him all the residue of said estate and that there was no inheritance tax payable thereon.

Affiant further states that the said Ida May Cook left no indebtedness and that there were no children or descendants of deceased children left surviving her to be affected by said Will or the probate thereof.
