

Westcoast then has the right to deliver to the Company without violating any law or regulation of Canada or any province thereof relating to the export of such gas and which the Company has the right to import into the United States without violating any law or regulation of the United States relating to the import of such gas; and, if the aggregate volume of gas which Westcoast has the right to deliver to the Company during the term of any export permit or license is restricted, the signer shall exclude from his calculations any part of such daily volume in excess of an amount determined by dividing the aggregate volume so deliverable by the number of days included in the term of such permit or license, but no further consideration need be given to the fact the term of such permit or license is not unrestricted; and, if Westcoast's right to deliver gas to the Company is limited to the right to deliver gas for resale in specified areas of the United States, such signer shall exclude from his calculations any part of such daily volume in excess of the average daily requirements of the Company under its then existing gas sales contracts covering gas to be resold in such specified areas; and, if such daily volume is then curtailed by a temporary restriction which by its terms is limited to a specified period, such signer may make appropriate adjustments in his calculations to reflect the temporary character of such curtailment,

(ii) shall take into account the extent, if any, to which the gas supply of Westcoast shall be inadequate to meet its then average daily requirements, including its requirements for delivery to the Company, as a result of restrictions then in effect imposed by the laws of the Province of Alberta, and

(iii) shall take into account the expected operating conditions of Westcoast as indicated, in the judgment of the signer of such Certificate, by the operating characteristics of the facilities of Westcoast and the operating experience of such facilities as disclosed by the Company's records of gas deliveries to it by Westcoast and by such other information as to Westcoast's operating history as the signer of said Certificate deems relevant.
