

part shall also pay the wages for a loading engineer during the hours he is conducting his logging operations, but for all time in excess thereof the party of the second part shall pay said wages. The logging engineer shall be a person agreeable to both parties hereto, and each party shall assume all liability for damage to his own equipment.

The party of the first part agrees to prosecute logging operations continuously unless prevented by act of God, weather conditions, or acts or accidents beyond his control, and to furnish a minimum of fifty thousand feet logs and/or piling per day, and the parties of the second part agree to haul a minimum of fifty thousand feet per day.

All of said logs are to be hauled to, and placed in boom at the Howe Valley Landing of the Columbia River.

The party of the first part promises and agrees to construct and grade a suitable logging road with a maximum down grade for load haul of 15% and up grade, load haul, of 8% but the rocking and graveling of said road shall be done by the party of the second part; provided the said party of the first part shall furnish pit for coarse rock, and shall pay the loading charge for gravel or fine rock, and shall also furnish a tractor, grader and dump truck for coarse rock.

In consideration for rocking, graveling and maintaining said road the party of the second part shall receive one fourth of one cent per lineal foot for all piling hauled, which shall be in full consideration therefor.

Payment shall be based upon scale made for sale of said logs by the said party of the first part.

The party of the second part promises and agrees to keep said logs and piling free from lien claims on account of labor employed by him in loading and/or hauling the same.
