

And the payment of said note shall render void this conveyance; but in case default is made in the payment of the principal or interest in said note expressed, when either principal or interest shall become due, then the whole sum, both the principal and interest accrued at the time default is made, shall become due and payable, and the party of the second part may foreclose this mortgage at any time hereafter. And the party of the first part covenants that said John P. Gillette is the owner, and seized in fee simple of said real estate, and that he will pay all of said sums of money, principal and interest, specified in said note, at the times therein designated. And it is further expressly agreed between the parties to this mortgage that if the party of the second part is compelled to foreclose this mortgage, by reason of the non-payment of said note, or any portion thereof, then in addition to the sum found due at the time of such foreclosure he shall be entitled to recover such sum as the Court may adjudge reasonable as attorney's fees in said suit or action, in addition to costs and disbursements allowed by the Code of Civil Procedure.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 6th day of February, A. D. 1901.
