

to secure the payment of the sum of five hundred dollars in accordance with the tenor of a certain instrument of writing of which the following is a copy, to-wit:

$500.00

Portland, Oregon, May 7th 1909

Six months after date, without grace I promise to pay to the order of H.P. Whitman at Portland, Ore five hundred dollars in Gold Coin of the United States of the present standard value, with interest thereon in like gold coin at the rate of ten per cent per annum from date until paid, for value received. Interest to be paid semi-annually and if not so paid the whole sum of both principal and interest to become immediately due and collectible at the option of the holder of this note. And in case suit or action is instituted to collect this note or any portion thereof I promise to pay in addition to the costs and charges provided by statute, such additional sum in like gold coin, as the Court may adjudge reasonable as attorneys fees to be allowed in said suit or action.

(signed) Claude A. White

Now if the sums of money due upon said instrument shall be paid according to agreement therein expressed, this conveyance shall be void, but in case default be made in the payment of the principal or interest as therein provided, then the said H.P. Whitman and his legal representative may sell the premises above described with all and every of the appurtenances or any part thereof in the manner provided by law and out of the money arising from such sale retain the said principal and interest, together with the costs and charges of making such sale and the over plus if any there be pay over to the said Claude A. White, heirs or assigns, and the said party of the first part does covenant and agree to pay to the said party of the second part, his heirs or assigns, all of said sum of money as above mentioned.
