

John W. Dickenson et al. vs Thos. L. Davidson.

Notice of Logger's Lien.

Notice is hereby given that I, John W. Dickenson, of Stevens-son, Okanania County, Washington, claim a lien upon a certain "Donkey Engine" and the cables, lines, machinery and appurtenances therunto belonging now situate on the land of one — Chwick, and about one and one half miles from Stevenson, on Rock Creek and in the mill camp of the late firm of "Wilson, Griffen & Co.", in Okanania County, Washington, for labor done and assistance rendered by the parties hereinafter named, each of whom have assigned to me his claim and account for such labor as hereafter stated. That each of the parties hereafter named were employed by Thomas L. Davidson who was carrying on the business of logging at the place where said "Donkey Engine" is located, who is and was the owner or reputed owner of said donkey engine and apparatus and fixtures. That the said Thomas L. Davidson employed each of said parties to work and each of said parties did actually work in and about said logging for the time set opposite the name of each party and the said Davidson agreed and promised to pay each of said parties at the rate per day set opposite to each name, hereafter and agreed further to pay such sum on the 10th. day of October 1899, but has failed and neglected to do so. That each of the parties so employed by said Davidson has faithfully kept and performed the contract on his part and there is due and owing to each of said parties on account of said work the amount set opposite to his name herein, over and above all payments, offsets and counter claims, on account of said work. That each of the parties have duly assigned their claim and demand and claim to this claimant and he is now the owner and holder of each thereof.
