OWNER/OCCUPIER OF EXISTING RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY

Under Washington law, those who work on or provide materials for the repair, remodel, or alteration of your owner-occupied principal residence and who are not paid, have a right to enforce their claim for payment against your property. This claim is known as a construction lien. The law limits the amount that a lien claimant can claim against your property. Claims may only be made against that portion of the contract you have not yet paid to your prime contractor as of the time you received this notice. Review this notice for more information and ways to avoid lien claims.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR YOUR PROTECTION !

This notice is sent to inform you that we have or will provide materials, professional services, or equipment for the repair, remodel, or alteration of your property. We expect to be paid by the person who ordered our services, but if we are not paid, we have the right to enforce our claim by filing a construction lien against your property.

LEARN more about the lien laws and the meaning of this notice by discussing it with your contractor, suppliers, the department of labor and industries, the firm sending you this notice, your lender, or your attorney.

COMMON METHODS TO AVOID CONSTRUCTION LIENS: There are several methods available to protect your property from construction liens. The following are two of the more commonly used methods:

- 1) DUAL PAYCHECKS (Joint Checks): When paying your contractor for services or materials, you may make checks payable jointly to the contractor and the firms furnishing you this notice;
- 2) LIEN RELEASES: You may require your contractor to provide lien releases signed by all the suppliers and subcontractors from whom you have received this notice. If they cannot obtain lien releases because you have not paid them, you may use the dual payee check method to protect yourself.

YOU SHOULD TAKE WHATEVER STEPS YOU BELIEVE NECESSARY TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY from liens. Your prime contractor and your construction lender are required by law to give you written information about lien claims. If you have not received it, ask them for it.
