I thought that I had burned out my clutch in my car because I could not get my car to go into any gear except reverse. So my car was sitting at the stop sign on Peyrollaz Rd. in Carson. Officer Ford told me I needed to move my car & that is when I informed him that I thought I had burned out my clutch, I told him that I was waiting for my boyfriend (husband) to get off work so he could help me to move the car he asked me when he got off work & I told him 6 p.m. he told me that the car had to be moved or he would have to call a tow truck. Then he asked if I could steer the car he would give me a push up into the drive way so that we could get it out of the way so that it didn't have to be towed since I was right at home. So he had me line him up the bumpers so he could push me but, when I got into my car & he tried pushing me he went sideways a couple of times before he was able to get my car started pushing into the road Hot springs Ave. He pushed me out there so he could get a better shot at getting me into my driveway on Payrollaz Rd. He pushed me up into the driveway into the trees & then went to Hunsakers to get a set of keys for me from my boyfriend for our other car. I did not discover the damages until Andy Willing my boyfriend showed them to me when he got home from work that night, he told me to report it at that time.
